Helpful Hints

- If you do not have a specific club with which you would like to link, send your application to SIA headquarters for inclusion in the What's New section of the web site. Include the club correspondent's name and address.
- Remember that clubs reject links for a number of reasons, too many links is the one most often cited. Keep trying until you find an interested club.
- If you have not received a response from the club with which you would like to link after three months, consider contacting them again, or move on to another link.
